Hi Susan –

Getting through my emails as well. Do you want an incident report on this as well? I think it is important you read all of the emails.

Hi John,

From my discussion with her, it sounds like an isolated incidence and not a potential outbreak. Also, there has been no other complaints. So a report will most likely not be needed. But to maintain consistency in my records, I will keep her food history on file; just in case.

Tameika
